Workshop Description:

As part of the New England Chapter of the American College of Sports Medicine's (NEACSM) strategic plan, we strive to engage membership by affording opportunity for professional development, meeting career goals, and developing future leaders of the NEACSM and ACSM. We believe that junior faculty/staff provide high energy, quality skills and innovative ideas contributing to the vision of the institution where they are employed as well as the NEACSM. If mentored and valued, developing attributes of young professionals can potentially result in future leaders of the organization that are vested in advancement and quality work. Quality mentorship is a critical to the development of many junior faculty/staff as they grow into leadership roles with research, teaching and/or clinical practice.
